BETA Settings

This page will display a list of switches and settings that are currently available as BETA features. These beta features may eventually become part of the admin tool where they have the most effect but some will always remain beta switches. The features described in this page should be used with caution and experience to make sure they work in exactly the situation you want with no ill side effects. Each will provide you with a short description and contain instructions on how to implement them on your site.
