These are the different modules that are attached to the page. When you add a module tag to a template, it should automatically attach that module to the page. If a module is not displaying, check this view to make sure it is attached properly, and if not, attach the file by clicking on the add button.

If you are no longer using a module on a page (or never were), click on the remove button to un-attach the module. You will want to avoid having a lot of un-used modules attached to a page, as it can slow down the page loading time.
