

License Activity Log

If enabled, the License Activity Log Addon monitors all activity relating to your license. Its main purpose is to record and report any problems that appear to exist with your software installation and the license associated with it.

We recommend that you have this Addon "enable" for the first month or so after installation to ensure that your license is configured properly. After this time, you can set the Addon to "disabled" if no problems are displayed on this section.

During the initial installation, the license entries will be recorded in this section, which is perfectly normal. Remember to set this Addon to "enabled" if at some point in the future you decide to change hosts or servers.

<tip c n> If you notice that you have more than one page of logging activity, you should report this to Geodesic Solutions Support Team so that they can take a closer look at your software installation. Copy/paste the first page of log entries along with your license key and send via email to our Support Team.</tip>
